*Passes are NOT sold on ADA/ETS buses, except to Seniors. If you board an ADA/ETS bus with an ADA/ETS bus for a Fixed Route or Dial-A-Ride bus, there will be an additional charge: Adults = pass + $1.00; Seniors (60+), Veterans, or Persons with disabilities = pass + $0.50; Children 6-11 = pass + $1.00. Seniors may use their 31-Day pass or All-Day pass.

2-Hour/1-Way pass cannot be used on the route that issued the pass.

Seniors 60+, Veterans, and Persons with disabilities pay half fare with a valid ID.
Answers to all your questions about paying to ride an L.E.T bus:

Q: How is the farebox faster?
A: When you have your LET$Ride pass ready, it’s much faster than feeding cash into the slots. Swiping an activated pass is even faster. Having your card ready when you board the bus always helps keep the buses on schedule. (Thanks in advance!)

Q: How do I use the farebox?
A: The electronic farebox accepts LET$Ride passes, change cards, TAP cards and cash as payment.
- LET$Ride change cards go into the left/feed slot after you tell your driver which pass you want. When you hear the beep, you can take your seat.
- LET$Ride change cards can take your seat.
- With a Value TAP card, just tell the bus driver what you need. When the driver’s ready, just tap your card on the target and wait for the beep.
- Paying with a 31-Day TAP card? Just tap your card on the target. When you hear the beep, you can take your seat.
- The digital display shows you — and announces — your next stop.

TAP Cards

Q: What is a TAP card?
A: A TAP card is a convenient reloadable pass made of hard plastic like a credit card. There are two kinds of TAP cards. Which one is best for you depends on how often you ride the bus.
- If you ride the bus every day or several times a week, the 31-Day TAP card is best for you. Buying or reloading a 31-Day TAP card costs the same as a 31-Day pass: $30 for adults and $25 for students.
- If you ride the bus once or twice a week, or just once in a while, the Value TAP card is best for you. Buy and reload Value TAP cards by dollar amounts up to $650, which makes them great gifts. And you can reload them anytime at the Home Office or Transfer Station.

Q: Where can I get my TAP card?
A: You can get your TAP card at the L.E.T. Main Office, 1105 W. Seventh St., or the Transfer Station at 730 N. Telegraph Rd.

Q: How long can I use my TAP card?
A: Your card is activated the first time you use it. Once it’s activated, a 31-Day TAP card is good for 31 days. A Value TAP card is activated the first time you use it and remains valid until there is less than $1 remaining on the card. It will become valid again when you reload it.

Q: How can I find out how much is left on my TAP card?
A: Just ask your bus driver to check the value or stop at the Home Office or Transfer Station.

Q: What if I lose my TAP card?
A: You can get a replacement card for $5 at the LET$Ride farebox at 1105 S. Seventh St. or at the Transfer Station at 715 Telegraph Rd.

LET$RIDE Passes

Q: How do I get a LET$Ride pass?
A: All-Day and 31-Day passes give you unlimited rides until the expiration date and time printed on the back. You can buy All-Day passes and 31-Day passes at the Home Office and the Telegraph Transfer Station.

Q: How do I use a LET$Ride pass?
A: Once your pass is activated, just swipe your pass when you board the bus. If your pass is accepted, you’ll hear a “beep.” When you hear the beep, you can take your seat!

Q: Why do I have to activate my LET$Ride pass?
A: Until you use your LET$Ride pass, it has no expiration date/time. It can expire unless it has been activated. Once you use it, the pass is activated, and its expiration date and time are set. However, if you purchase your pass at the farebox on the bus, it will already be activated. You’re good to go!

Q: How do I use my LET$Ride pass?
A: Once your pass is activated, just swipe your pass when you board the bus. If your pass is accepted, you’ll hear a “beep.” When you hear the beep, you can take your seat!

Q: How do I pay with cash?
A: The LET$Ride farebox takes U.S. paper money ($1, $2, $5, $10 and $20 bills) and U.S. coins only. No Canadian coins. Exact change is always appreciated. Coins go in the coin drop, one at a time, here (line to coin slot). Bills go in the bill feeder, here. (line to bill feeder) Just insert bills from the narrow end (either one), as long as the bill is flat and corners are not folded. The farebox will announce the amount as you go.

Q: How do I know how much is left on my LET$Ride pass?
A: Your answer will always be on the back of your pass. With an All-Day pass, the expiration date and time will be printed on the back. On a 31-Day pass, the expiration date will be printed on the back. With a 2-Hour/1-Way pass, the time your pass expires will be printed on the back of the pass.

Q: Does a change card expire?
A: No, a change card does not expire. It remains valid until you use the full amount.

Q: How do I know how much is left on my LET$Ride pass?
A: Your answer will always be on the back of your pass. With an All-Day pass, the expiration date and time will be printed on the back. On a 31-Day pass, the expiration date will be printed on the back. With a 2-Hour/1-Way pass, the time your pass expires will be printed on the back of the pass.

Q: What is a change card?
A: The LET$Ride farebox cannot make change, and drivers cannot carry money to make change. So, if you have to pay with a bill larger than your fare, the farebox will issue a LET$Ride change card for the amount you are owed in change.

Q: How do I use a change card?
A: When you use a change card, first tell your driver what type of pass you want. Then insert your change card into the left/feed slot. Your fare will be deducted from your change card. Any amount remaining will be printed on the back. If the change card doesn’t cover the whole fare, simply feed coins or bills into the farebox until the digital display says the fare is paid in full.
